BUSINESS MEN APPOINT SHADE TREE COMMISSION

Association Takes up Problem of Beautifying Town

TO WORK WITH COUNCIL

Borough Engineer to be in Charge--Marketing Committee is Named

A shade tree commission to act conjunctively with council in the improvement of the borough by the planting of shade trees was appointed by the Charleroi Business Men's Association at their regular monthly meeting held Thursday evening in their rooms of the Kirk and Clark building. The commission named consists of Dr. H. J. Repman, Frank Bly, C. R. Partridge, R. H. Rush, and W. H. Miliken. Arrangements were made for the committee to meet on next Tuesday evening to formulate plans for future work and to arrange a conference with council. According to the plans for working out the shade problem the borough engineer would have general supervision.

The proposal for a shade tree commission was made by W. S. James in a talk on the subject. Mr. James presented the need of a commission, and spoke of the good it could accomplish. Much damage has been done by vandals in the past it is understood to trees and towards the prevention of loss in this direction it was suggested the commission might work. It is believed that the idea of a shade tree commission will appeal to the people.

A committee to lay plans for the annual outing of the Business Men's Association was appointed, to consist of Joseph Stech, E. W. H. Riva, and O. Lance Riggs. They will take up the matter and make a report at the next meeting to be held in July. The picnic is to be held before school opens.

In order to carry out plans for a curb market and to assist generally in marketing work, a committee was appointed to act conjunctively with the Charleroi Marketing club of women. The committee will be: W. R. Gaut, W. C. Clark, W. S. James, Frank Riva, George Leith, E. W. Hastings and J. M. Fleming.

O. Lance Riggs was elected corresponding secretary to take the place of Alex. B. Gray, resigned, and W. C. Clark was elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William Kirk. A resolution was adopted to be spread upon the minutes as a memorial to William Kirk.

Notice of I. O. O. F. All members of Charleroi Lodge 1030 and Iris Rebekah Lodge No. 299 are requested to meet at their hall Sunday, June 8 at 2 p. m. sharp for the purpose of attending in a body the memorial service held at the Palace Theatre. All visiting members of the orders are invited to meet with them. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this service.

There will be a dance in the Bank of Charleroi hall on Saturday evening, June 7. Electric fans have been installed. Spridick Bros. 269-22p

Program Is Given

"Light Bearers" of Washington Avenue Church Hold Interesting Meeting

The "Little Light Bearers," a branch organization of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church held their annual reception Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Edwin McKay, the superintendent, had an interesting program arranged. Mrs. Ira L. Nickerson, Mrs. F. C. Stahlman and Mrs. Agnes Patterson took part in the speaking and Miss Genevieve Nutt and Mrs. Sloan sang solos. After the rendition of the program a social hour was held and 61 children sat down at little tables arranged for their convenience. Several new members were received at the meeting.

SOCIALISTS WILL MEET

"Mother" Jones to Speak at Eldora Sunday--Is Remarkable Woman

KIRKPATRICK COMING

When "Mother" Jones appears at Eldora Park next Sunday, June 8, under the auspices of the Tri-County association of Socialists one of the most famous labor leaders of the age will be seen and heard. Aged 81 years, she is finishing out a career that has been devoted to the labor cause. She is still hale and hearty and speaks with an old time fire for which she is noted. George R. Kirkpatrick one of the most noted Socialists of the United States, who is the author of "War--What For?" will be at Eldora also on Sunday and will make an address. There will be two meetings one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

"Mother" Jones in her work has become known the length and breadth of the country. She went from Pennsylvania 12 years ago into the West Virginia region. She remained there for some time and in 1904 went to Colorado, leaving as a result largely of her own endeavor 10,000 men organized in the West Virginia fields. When the West Virginia strike started in 1912 she was in Montana.

Immediately leaving Montana, "Mother" Jones hastened to her home territory, where she was told it was worth her life to enter the Paint or Cabin creek districts as a labor organizer. Nevertheless she did enter these districts, and took up with a vigor the cause of the miners. Eventually she got the attention of the government at Washington, seeking an investigation into the strike.

One result of the West Virginia affair was that "Mother" Jones was arrested. She spent her 81st birthday in jail and left that penal institution with a geriatric fire than ever if possible. Since then she has been speaking at different points and lately has been much in the Pittsburgh district. She is a remarkable woman. Even her enemies admit that.

SEATS NOT ALL GONE FOR CHURCH FUNCTION SUNDAY

Although there has been a good sale, the tickets for the dedication of St. Jerome's church Sunday are by no means all gone yet. There are plenty of good seats left, and they can be procured at the pharmacy of J. W. Carroll on Fallowfield avenue, or at the undertaking establishment of M. T. Crowley on McKean avenue. The dedication will be one of the big events in church circles in the diocese and with the presence of the bishop and other church dignitaries, the solemn and impressive ceremonies will draw large crowds of people from the entire district.

Changes in the Scenery

Railroads Making Transformations in Lines at up River Points

The improvement being made by the P. & L. E. railroad at Fayette City and Brownsville are rapidly transforming the character of scenery at those two places, particularly along the river banks. Large yards are being constructed at both places to take care of the rapidly increasing traffic which is originating in the upper valley. The Pennsylvania is likewise making extensive improvements, and the West Brownsville yards now extend almost to the Crescent mine, about three miles below the junction. The tracks have been raised over ten feet, in order to conform to the grade of the new railroad bridge, recently constructed over the river at that place. On every hand the indications point to a rapid development of that part of the valley.

CRUSADE STARTED

Police Will Campaign Against Auto Joy Riders Here

FINE FOR ONE IS $10

For violation of the automobile laws Arthur Hunter of Charleroi was fined $10 and costs by Burgess Geo. W. Risbeck Friday night at a hearing. The charges against Hunter were exceeding the speed limit, not blowing his horn at the corner and passing a street car while the car was discharging and receiving passengers. Hunter is the man that was arrested after a traveling salesman had nearly been run down at the corner of McKean avenue and Fifth street Tuesday night.

Urged on by a number who are bitterly opposed to the speed nuisance the police are starting a crusade. It is understood that when arrested motorists will be severely dealt with if it can be found they violated the law in any particular. People are complaining in various parts of town of excessive joy riding.

Social Tonight. A Fifteen Cent social will be held in P. H. C. hall tonight for benefit of Degree Team. All members and their friends are invited. Come and spend a pleasant evening. 269-11

Hurt in Mill. William Allshouse of North Charleroi was injured at work at a Monessen mill Thursday. He was working with a piece of machinery when he was caught, and what is known as a "clam-shell" driven into his body. He is understood to be in pretty bad condition.

Charleroi Coal Mine Will be Run on Up-to-Date Principles

MINE FOREMAN NAMED

George W. Wilkes, Formerly Connected With Charleroi Coal Company Retained

Only the very best miners will be picked for the Charleroi mine of the Carnegie Coal company which will start operations late in the summer or in the early fall. An effort will be made, it is stated to secure men of particularly temperate habits for employes both inside and outside the mine.

When the mine is in complete operation it is understood that there will be 800 men on the payroll. This will be nearly double the number employed when the Charleroi Coal company operated the mine. Consequently the production will be greatly increased.

The new Charleroi mine will be one of the most up-to-date and one of the largest along the Monongahela valley. With the new steel tipples and with a new opening on practically no grade at all ample means for a tremendous output will be at hand.

The general superintendent of the Carnegie Coal company is George Osler. Who the local superintendent will be has not yet been announced. It is understood that George W. Wilkes of Charleroi, will be the mine foreman. Mr. Wilkes is a practical miner and one of the most experienced mining men in the Monongahela valley. He entered the mine when he was 12 years old and has spent 35 years as a miner. He was mine foreman for the Charleroi Coal works. His record is nearly perfect. The Charleroi mine was a gaseous mine, the same as nearly every other mine along the Monongahela valley, yet no serious accidents ever occurred, owing to the care taken in the operations. The worst accident that ever happened was about three or four years ago, when two men were killed by an explosion of an explosive.

THE MONTH OF ROSES.

June is essentially the month of roses. Just now this beautiful and fragrant flower is very much in evidence. Young girls and women who at other seasons of the year forego the luxury of roses are at this period wearing them profusely and the beauty—both the feminine loveliness and the flowers—is all the more enhanced by the combination.

It is a matter of regret that roses are not more generally cultivated in the yards and gardens of the town dwellers. While the blooming period is usually confined to one short month yet the wealth of loveliness and perfume yielded in that brief time amply repays all efforts. No flower appeals more strongly to sentiment, romance and tradition than the rose.
Where is there a country bred man or woman who does not recall by-gone pleasures and the halcyon days of youth with the scent of the roses?
James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, in his "Old Fashioned Roses," touches one of the deepest chords of human sympathy when he recounts the recollections that the sweet old-fashioned roses bring:

"And then I think of mother,
And how she used to love 'em,
When there wasn't any other
Lest you found 'em up above 'em.
And her eyes afore she shet 'em
Whispered with a smile and said,
We must pluck a bunch and put 'em
In her hand when she was dead."

These are some of the by-gone memories that the scent of the roses recall. Their presence just now is one of the glories of the universe and they make the hard conditions of life more endurable. It is a pity that there are not more roses to adorn the pathway of all who tread through the glorious days of June in the artificial atmosphere that the hand of man has created.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

The intelligence that the Carnegie Coal company will have 800 men on its payroll when they get their Charleroi mine in operation is welcome intelligence for this community.
An industrial concern that employs that number of people is considered a big acquisition to the business interests of a town, and is something which usually commands effort and very frequently bonuses to acquire.
The Carnegie Coal company, without asking a cent for inducements to locate here, is busily engaged in building its tipples to commence operations, which are assured of as steady
a run as any of the other big industries of the Pittsburgh district.

While it lasts the coal mining industry is as good, if not better, than any of the other big industries.
A mine to be profitable must be operated on a large scale, as it is the volume of business now that constitutes profit, rather than the margin between the cost of production and the market price. Consequently a large number of men are employed who receive and expend their wages regularly. An additional payroll of 800 men in a town working steadily and drawing their pay means that many people at least have wants to be satisfied in the community in which they live. This is equivalent to landing a big factory and the operation of the mine will add still more to the business and industrial standing of Charleroi.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Some fellows that look as though they didn't have any brains have the most.

Of course you couldn't expect the

That will make it very easy for him

Seemingly the earth revolves around the trusts. It has been discovered the trusts are the cause of much of the country's trouble, and yet also it has been discovered that without the trusts the country couldn't get along at all.

Out west recalled officials profess their regret that the people weren't willing to be served by a zealous person. Sort of a regretful recall.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The fact that a young man 27 years old who lives not a thousand miles from Charleroi did not go home one night recently, caused his parents and the family of his fiancée to get up at daylight next morning and start a search for him. The young man's father rang the door bell about 5 o'clock at the home of his son's fiancée and aroused the household. The girl said his son had talked with her over the phone in the evening, and had told her he was going home early. That was the last heard of him.

The girl's brother volunteered to go to the police station and start a search. Both families were very worried, and felt certain he had foul play. The young man's mother worried herself sick. About 8 o'clock his fiancée found him at his office.

"Where were you last night; give an account of yourself," she said.

"It is a pity," said he, "that a young man 27 years old, can't go out and stay all night without having the police after him. I met a friend from Pittsburgh and he wanted me to go down there to a banquet. I just had time to catch the car and couldn't telephone. I intended to come back on the last car, but missed it and had to come home on the first car this morning. Now, is that satisfactory?"

The other evening a small boy begged his mother for permission to go to one of the moving picture shows in town.

"No," replied his mother, there is no one to go with you, and I'm afraid you might get run down by an auto, or hurt on the street car track."

"Say, mamma," asked the lad, "do you believe what they teach at Sunday school?"
"Why yes," replied his mother.

"Well," continued the youngster,
"we learned a new song last Sunday, 'The Master Will Take Care of You.' I guess you won't have to go with me. God will take care of me all right."

But even this argument did not gain the desired permission.

Took First Position.

Mr. William Milligan Sloane, "Beth Low" professor of history at Columbia university, in an interview with the London Daily Mail correspondent, said: "I understand that a certain Berlin correspondent of a New York newspaper received a cablegram from his editor which read, 'Don't send much war news; world's baseball series now on!'"

It is not given to every arbitler to in a Paris restaurant disputed, as customers will, whether to have the window open or shut. The apostle of a fresh comer, who had brought his stock of fresh air with him. The restaurateur decided for the monsieur who had not yet dined. The decision satisfied the claims of justice and business at a single stroke, and if one client had a grievance it was open to him to ventilate it (and his lungs) and a Mr. Max Hochstim figured in a

SAYS ALL WOMEN ARE LIARS

German Diplomat, Who Got the "Mib-ten," Declares Fair Sex Deficient Morally.

"All women are liars and are deficient in their sense of moral duty."

This and more is the opinion of Baron Herrmann von Kuhlmann of Bavaria, unmarried and attached to German embassy at Pekin, who arrived on the Chigo Maru recently.

According to fellow passengers, the baron formed his views on the voyage
when his attentions to Miss Katherine Enright of Chicago did not meet with hearty response.

"A woman cannot recognize the same moral responsibility as a man,"
said the baron. "No marriage can remain a happy one for more than a year. By that time a man will lose faith in his wife."

Then, turning to Miss Enright, the baron said:

"We have had a pleasant trip. But to have you for a wife if I could—never! You are too energetic."

Returning to the interview, the baron continued:

"Woman is illogical and untrustworthy. She changes her mind too frequently. Woman has no feeling requiring her to tell the truth. In Germany a man and wife are comrades, but in America—never. Here the women are proud and selfish and the men suffer for it."

Advice About Reading.

Be sure, then, to read no, mean books; shun the spawn of the press in the gossip of the hour. Do not read what you shall learn, without asking, in the street and the train. Dr. Johnson said he "always went into stately shops," and good travelers stop at the best hotels; for though they cost more they do not cost much more, and there is the good company and the best information. In like manner the scholar knows that the famous books contain, first and last, the best thoughts and facts. . . . The three practical rules, then, which I have to offer are (1) Never read any book that is not a year old. (2) Never read any but famed books. (3) Never read any but what you like.—Emerson.

Community in News.

At a friend's southern hunting lodge
his wife has learned that her "ring-up" on the telephone is accompanied by the click of receivers all along the line. Every one is obviously listening to what she says. On one occasion a telegram was telephoned to the lodge, and the following day, when her husband met a rural neighbor on the road, the latter drew rein to converse.

"Mr. Grey," said he, "I didn't catch th' last part of that telegram we got yesterday."

Mr. Grey accordingly enlightened
his ignorance forthwith.—New York

Farmer's Suggestion.

A Florida farmer who was raising strawberries for the market sent a shipment to New York and the commission merchant wrote back that the berries were too ripe, consequently poor prices and small return checks, so next time the grower picked them earlier and the results were about the same, as the New York man said they were too green for the market; so the next shipment the man pulled up the plants by the roots, packed them in boxes and said, "You can pick them when just right for your particular market."

Made Dogs and Rats Fight.

For keeping premises in Soar Lane,
Leicester, for dog and rat fighting,
Walter Manship was at Leicester yesterday fined £5 under the protection of animals act, and for assisting him Ernest Manship and Albert Martin of Leicester, Joseph Ward of Hinckley and James Mason of Birmingham were fined £1 each. It was stated that on Boxing day terrier dogs were placed in a rat pit and a number of rats were killed. All the competing dogs were badly bitten and in one competition two rats were seen hanging from the bleeding jaws of a dog.

PROUD OF HIS SELF-CONTROL

Mrs. Brown Could Agree With Her Liege Lord, Too, That It Was Something Uncommon.

Mr. Brown was excitable by nature, but he often prided himself audibly upon his self-control. One night while the family were gathered at the tea table the chimney began to roar; the furnace draft had been opened and forgotten. Straightway a panic ensued. "Don't lose your heads—keep cool!" cried Mr. Brown. "It's nothing serious."

He dashed up the stairs, discovered that the metal cap over the only unused stovepipe hole was already red hot, and dashed down again faster than he went up.

"Keep cool!" he gasped, as he passed through the room where the family had gathered in nervous apprehension. "I'll be back in a minute."

He was back in less than that time, having observed that the flames were spouting several feet high from the chimney, and that a shower of sparks was falling upon the roof.

"Where's the stepladder?" he panted.

He was gone before anyone could answer the question, and presently was heard bellowing from the roof of the woodshed. He presented an heroic figure in the glare of the blazing chimney.

"I've got one end of the hose!" he called. "Some one attach the other end and turn on the water—quick!"

Two long minutes passed. "Why doesn't some one do as I ordered?" he thundered. "Do you want the place to burn up?"

"We can't, Henry!" called Mrs. Brown, tremblingly. "You haven't got the hose—you've got the cow-ropes. It was hanging next to the hose in the shed. And anyway, the roof is covered with ice, and I don't think there's any great danger outside. You'd better go and watch the chimney from the inside."

A half-hour later the family were again at the tea table.

"If this had happened in some homes," remarked Mr. Brown, "the family would have lost their heads completely and sent in an alarm. Self-control is an excellent thing—and far from common."

"Indeed it is!" agreed Mrs. Brown, emphatically.—Youth's Companion.

BASEBALL FOR THE FARMER

Possibly the Game Might Be of Benefit to Him, But It Is Hardly Indispensable.

Baseball never has been regarded exclusively as a city product. While it is true that the cities supply the enormous crowds that support the big leagues, it is equally true that many of the players in those leagues are graduates of the "bush" leagues. The country boy has an equal chance with the city boy to win the high honors and generous emoluments of a successful ball player. The farmer himself has not come directly in touch with the national game, perhaps, except on a rare holiday. A professor in the Kansas State Agricultural college calls this a mistake. Familiarity with the game, he believes, would promote success in agriculture. If the farmer would play ball "it would take the shamble out of his walk" and "make him decide quickly." This is an interesting theory, but it will not be universally accepted. Some will contend that the motor car has already taken the "shamble" out of the farmer's walk. Others will insist that handling a high spirited horse or pitching a load of hay on a wagon while a thunderstorm is gathering is just as valuable in training his mental faculties to quick action.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Rose Culture in Bulgaria.
White and red roses are grown, the former being easier to cultivate, but giving only about half as much oil of an inferior quality. The individual growers distill their own oil. Twelve to fifteen kilos of roses are distilled with 60 kilos of water until 12 kilos of distillate are obtained; eight to ten such lots are then united, and redistilled into long necked flasks, in which the oil separates on standing. To produce one kilo of oil requires 3,000 kilos of roses of 1,300,000 flowers. The roses are gathered in the early morning and distilled the same day. The pure oil from the various districts shows variations in color and physical properties, and is therefore skillfully blended by the distributing houses before sale. Adulteration is very largely carried on by the peasants, who use ginger grass oil, palma rosa oil, geranium oil, etc. The production for 1910 was 3,143 kilos.—The Pharmaceutical Era.

We Are Creatures of Habit.
There was no rush at the moment and the ticket chopper had time to talk to the man waiting for a friend in a subway station. "Yes, we see lots of queer people here," he said, "and we have nearly the same people every day and at the same hour. I know men who do not vary a minute in a week in their reaching the ticket box. The queerest man we have at this station we call 'the whistler.' Every morning at 7:20 he drops his ticket in the box and he always whistles. That wouldn't be so funny, but for years it has always been the same tune. We all know the tune, but no one knows the song. His ticket goes in the box at the same note every morning, and then he walks to the third post, opens his paper and whistles till the train comes."—New York Tribune.

The 10 and 11 Models of the

Remington Typewriter

are Visible Writers—
and more.

These new Remington models supply visible writing under new conditions—without loss of efficiency.

To realize what this means—the combination of Remington strength with visible writing—note the type bars. Note them specially. See how they are hung in a double row. This gives room for the broad pivot bearings. Note the bar itself, the strong, rigid bar, the Remington bar you have always known, made from a steel drop forging. Compare this bar with the ordinary thin bar, stamped out of sheet steel, and you will understand one reason why the very name "Remington" stands for Strength and Reliability in a Typewriter.

TOMORROW LAST DAY OF STAY FOR ALONZO SOUSLIN

After a several days stay in Charleroi Alonzo Souslin who is considered one of the most remarkable men in the country from the fact that he lives and enjoys good health in spite of a broken neck, will leave after Saturday night. Mr. Souslin has been here doing what work he can, which consists principally in the selling of postcard photographs. It would be absolutely impossible for Mr. Souslin to do any hard work. Being a man who spent his earlier years at hard work, this fact rather grates on him, but obviously a man with a disconnected neck has no business drilling wells, railroading or doing any other kind of labor that the ordinary person would do.

Mr. Souslin's home is in Dayton, Ohio, and following a visit to Donora and Washington he will return here to visit his family.

Ladies' Suits Smartly tailored garments that some stores would consider great values at $20.00. We are having them on sale at $9.25. Come have one charged. Your credit's good, that's understood. The Peoples Store, 536 Fallowfield Ave., Charleroi, Pa. 269-11.

To Freshen Air.
To freshen the air of a sickroom, ground coffee should be sprinkled on a shovel or coal-scoop previously heated in the fire. A match should then be held to a small piece of camphor-gum, and when this is alight it should be placed in the center of the shovel. The burning coffee gives an aromatic aroma to the room, which is very refreshing.

Ancient Use of Cork.
Cork was known to the Greeks and Romans, and was put to almost as many uses as at present, although there is no mention in Rome of linoleum, notwithstanding its Roman sound. Glass bottles, with cork stoppers, for wine and beer, did not come into use until the middle of the fourteenth century.

The Real Problem.
"Well, dear," said the young husband to his bride, "I'll make out the deposit slip in your name, and all you have to do is to take it to the bank." "Yes," she responded, "but suppose I want to draw out some money some day, how will they know which is my money?"—Harper's Bazar.

Of Doubtful Status.
"Have you much of a friendship with Wombat? I see you going home with him occasionally." "The status of our friendship is a puzzle to me. He never takes me to his house except when he has been drinking."—Louisville Courier Journal.

BUSINESS MEN APPOINT SHADE TREE COMMISSION

Association Takes up Problem of Beautifying Town

A shade tree commission to act conjunctively with council in the improvement of the borough by the planting of shade trees was appointed by the Charleroi Business Men's Association at their regular monthly meeting held Thursday evening in their rooms of the Kirk and Clark building. The commission named consists of Dr. H. J. Repman, Frank Bly, C. R. Peregrine, R. H. Rush, and W. H. Milliken. Arrangements were made for the committee to meet on next Tuesday evening to formulate plans for future work and to arrange a conference with council. According to the plans for working out the shade problem the borough engineer would have general supervision.

The proposal for a shade tree commission was made by W. S. James in a talk on the subject. Mr. James presented the need of a commission, and spoke of the good it could accomplish. Much damage has been done by vandals in the past it is understood to trees and towards the prevention of loss in this direction it was suggested the commission might work. It is believed that the idea of a shade tree commission will appeal to the people.

A committee to lay plans for the annual outing of the Business Men's Association was appointed, to consist of Joseph Stech, E. W. Hastings, and O. Lance Riggs. They will take up the matter and make a report at the next meeting to be held in July. The picnic is to be held before school opens.

In order to carry out plans for a curb market and to assist generally in marketing work, a committee was appointed to act conjunctively with the Charleroi Marketing club of women. The committee will be: W. R. Gaut, W. C. Clark, W. S. James, Frank Riva, George Leith, E. W. Hastings and J. M. Fleming.

O. Lance Riggs was elected corresponding secretary to take the place of Alex. B. Gray, resigned, and W. C. Clark was elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William Kirk. A resolution was adopted to be spread upon the minutes as a memorial to William Kirk.

Notice of I. O. O. F.

All members of Charleroi Lodge 1030 and Iris Rebekah Lodge No. 299 are requested to meet at their hall Sunday, June 8 at 2 p. m. sharp for the purpose of attending in a body the memorial service held at the Palace Theatre. All visiting members of the orders are invited to meet with them. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this service.

Program Is Given

"Light Bearers" of Washington Avenue Church Hold Interesting Meeting

The "Little Light Bearers," a branch organization of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church held their annual reception Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Edwin McKay, the superintendent, had an interesting program arranged. Mrs. Ira L. Nickerson, Mrs. F. C. Stahlman and Mrs. Agnes Patterson took part in the speaking and Miss Genevieve Nutt and Mrs. Sloan sang solos. After the rendition of the program a social hour was held and 61 children sat down at little tables arranged for their convenience. Several new members were received at the meeting.

SOCIALISTS WILL MEET

"Mother" Jones to Speak at Eldora Sunday—Is Remarkable Woman

KIRKPATRICK COMING

When "Mother" Jones appears at Eldora Park next Sunday, June 8, under the auspices of the Tri-County association of Socialists one of the most famous labor leaders of the age will be seen and heard. Aged 81 years, she is finishing out a career that has been devoted to the labor cause. She is still hale and hearty and speaks with an old time fire for which she is noted. George R. Kirkpatrick one of the most noted Socialists of the United States, who is the author of "War—What For?" will be at Eldora also on Sunday and will make an address. There will be two meetings one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

"Mother" Jones in her work has become known the length and breadth of the country. She went from Pennsylvania 12 years ago into the West Virginia region. She remained there for some time and in 1901 went to Colorado, leaving as a result largely of her own endeavor 10,000 men organized in the West Virginia fields. When the West Virginia strike started in 1912 she was in Montana.

Immediately leaving Montana, "Mother" Jones hastened to her home territory, where she was told it was worth her life to enter the Paint or Cabin creek districts as a labor organizer. Nevertheless she did enter these districts, and took up with a vigor the cause of the miners. Eventually she got the attention of the government at Washington, seeking an investigation into the strike.

One result of the West Virginia affair was that "Mother" Jones was arrested. She spent her 81st birthday in jail and left that penal institution with a geriatric fire than ever if possible. Since then she has been speaking at different points and lately has been much in the Pittsburgh district. She is a remarkable woman. Even her enemies admit that.

SAVES COW; HIS LIFE IS NOW DESPAIRED OF

Belle Vernon Doctor Avoids Bovine and Drives Automobile Into Bank—Is Thrown From Car and is Badly Hurt

When Dr. B. F. Haines of Belle Vernon tried to avoid striking a cow with his automobile and turned his machine into a bank Friday he performed an act that may cost him his life. Today he is in a serious condition as the result of being thrown from the car. He was given attention by a specialist from Pittsburgh but yet may not survive.

With Dr. Haines was "Jim" Erbeck, a road contractor. They were bowling along on the stretch of road about three miles back of Belle Vernon. Suddenly they came upon a cow. With a twist Dr. Haines turned the automobile towards the side of the bank, into which it plunged. When the machine was overturned he was thrown out some distance away. When picked up it was found that he had some broken ribs and was otherwise much injured. Erbeck escaped unhurt.

FUNERAL OF GEORGE PEGG TO BE HELD HERE ON SATURDAY

The funeral of George Pegg, aged 25 a North Charleroi young man who was killed on the Gulf and Ship Island railroad in Mississippi this week will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with services conducted by Rev. E. N. Dwyer at the home of his mother, Mrs. Emily Pegg at North Charleroi. Interment will be in the Monongahela cemetery.

In New Quarters Both the Real Estate Agency company and the office of J. W. Mathias pany and the office of J. W. Mathias, from the First National Bank building at the corner of McKean avenue and Fifth street to the second floor of the Ross building at 511 McKean avenue, the present quarters of the First National Bank.

BOYS AND GIRLS PONY CONTEST

A handsome, well-broke, gentle, thoroughbred Shetland Pony, with buggy and harness reared at the Oakwayne farm will be given to the boy or girl under 15 years of age who turns in the greatest number of Pony votes.

How to Secure Pony Votes. The following merchants will give one vote with every penny's worth of goods purchased at their stores from now till September first when the Pony will be given to the child who secures the greatest number of votes:

George S. Night, book store, Palace Theatre, George Wagner, ice cream, J. M. Fleming, plumbing, C. R. Newcomer, shoes, Pipers Pharmacy, drugs, Farmers Supply Company, harness etc., Frye Hardware Co., James Gelder, meat market, Collins Wall Paper Co., City Grocery, W. B. Carson Co., groceries, Eugene Pau, dry goods, S. L. Woodward, furniture, Greenberg Bros., clothing, H. Porter, jeweler, M. Wein, tailor, Carl M. Wertz, printer.

If your parents, your relatives or friends are to buy groceries, see to it that they go to the store that gives away votes. If it is shoes or dry goods or candy, jewelry, printing or what not see to it that they are purchased at the store that gives away votes free. If you are going to the show you get pony votes at the Palace; if its jewelry for June wedding presents go to Porter. And so on all through all lines of merchandise you will find the live wire merchants to be interested in Pony votes. If you buy $10.00 worth of groceries a month you are entitled to 1000 votes. Have all your friends in the country who trade in Charleroi to go to the Pony Vote stores and save the votes for you.

Every live boy wants a pony and here is an opportunity for one boy in Charleroi to earn one for himself. All it takes is a little work among your friends. Deposit your votes at the following stores in boxes already prepared. Mights, Pipers and Fryes. See that your name is on every vote. 269-41

The improvement being made by the P. & L. E. railroad at Fayette City and Brownsville are rapidly transforming the character of scenery at those two places, particularly along the river banks. Large yards are being constructed at both places to take care of the rapidly increasing traffic which is originating in the upper valley. The Pennsylvania is likewise making extensive improvements, and the West Brownsville yards now extend almost to the Crescent mine, about three miles below the junction. The tracks have been raised over ten feet, in order to conform to the grade of the new railroad bridge, recently constructed over the river at that place. On every hand the indications point to a rapid development of that part of the valley.

Police Will Campaign Against Auto Joy Riders Here

FINE FOR ONE IS $10

For violation of the automobile laws Arthur Hunter of Charleroi was fined $10 and costs by Burgess Geo. W. Risoeck Friday night at a hearing. The charges against Hunter were exceeding the speed limit, not blowing his horn at the corner and passing a street car while the car was discharging and receiving passengers. Hunter is the man that was arrested after a traveling salesman had nearly been run down at the corner of McKean avenue and Fifth street Tuesday night.

Urged on by a number who are bitterly opposed to the speed nuisance the police are starting a crusade. It is understood that when arrested motorists will be severely dealt with if it can be found they violated the law in any particular. People are complaining in various parts of town of excessive joy riding.

Hurt in Mill.

Charleroi Coal Mine Will be Run on Up-to-Date Principles

George W. Will es, Formerly Connected With Charleroi Coal Company Retained

Only the very best miners will be picked for the Charleroi mine of the Carnegie Coal company which will start operations late in the summer or in the early fall. An effort will be made, it is stated to secure men of particularly temperate habits for employees both inside and outside the mine.

When the mine is in complete operation it is understood that there will be 800 men on the payroll. This will be nearly double the number employed when the Charleroi Coal company operated the mine. Consequently the production will be greatly increased.

The new Charleroi mine will be one of the most up-to-date and one of the largest along the Monongahela valley. With the new steel tipples and with a new opening on practically no grade at all ample means for a tremendous output will be at hand.

The general superintendent of the Carnegie Coal company is George Oster. Who the local superintendent will be has not yet been announced. It is understood that George W. Wilkes of Charleroi, will be the mine foreman. Mr. Wilkes is a practical miner and one of the most experienced mining men in the Monongahela valley. He entered the mine when he was 12 years old and has spent 35 years as a miner. He was mine foreman for the Charleroi Coal works. His record is nearly perfect. The Charleroi mine was a gaseous mine, the same as nearly every other mine along the Monongahela valley, yet no serious accidents ever occurred, owing to the care taken in the operations. The worst accident that ever happened was about three or four years ago, when two men were killed by an explosion of an explosive.

THE MONTH OF ROSES.

June is essentially the month of roses. Just now this beautiful and fragrant flower is very much in evidence. Young girls and women who at other seasons of the year forego the luxury of roses are at this period wearing them profusely and the beauty—both the feminine loveliness and the flowers—is all the more enhanced by the combination.

It is a matter of regret that roses are not more generally cultivated in the yards and gardens of the town dwellers. While the blooming period is usually confined to one short month yet the wealth of loveliness and perfume yielded in that brief time amply repays all efforts. No flower appeals more strongly to sentiment, romance and tradition than the rose. Where is there a country bred man or woman who does not recall bygone pleasures and the halcyon days of youth with the scent of the roses? James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, in his "Old Fashioned Roses," touches one of the deepest chords of human sympathy when he recounts the recollections that the sweet old-fashioned roses bring:

"And then I think o' mother, And how she used to love 'em, When there wasn't any other, Lest you found 'em up above 'em, And her eyes afore she shet 'em, Whispered with a smile and said, We must pluck a bunch and put 'em In her hand when she was dead."

These are some of the by-gone memories that the scent of the roses recall. Their presence just now is one of the glories of the universe and they make the hard conditions of life more endurable. It is a pity that there are not more roses to adorn the pathway of all who tread through the glorious days of June in the artificial atmosphere that the hand of man has created.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

A NEW INDUSTRY.

The intelligence that the Carnegie Coal Company will have 300 men on its payroll when they get their Charleroi mine in operation is welcome intelligence for this community. An industrial concern that employs that number of people is considered a big acquisition to the business interests of a town, and is something which usually commands effort and very frequently bonuses to acquire. The Carnegie Coal company, without asking a cent for inducements to locate here, is busily engaged in building its tipples to commence operations, which are assured of as steady a run as any of the other big industries of the Pittsburgh district.

While it lasts the coal mining industry is as good, if not better, than any of the other big industries. A mine to be profitable must be operated on a large scale, as it is the volume of business now that constitutes profit, rather than the margin between the cost of production and the market price. Consequently a large number of men are employed who receive and expend their wages regularly. An additional payroll of 300 men in a town working steadily and drawing their pay means that many people at least have wants to be satisfied in the community in which they live. This is equivalent to landing a big factory and the operation of the mine will add still more to the business and industrial standing of Charleroi.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Some fellows that look as though they didn't have any brains have the most.

The difference between dumb bell exercise and the exercise attending the mowing of the lawn is that the latter makes you strong to shovel coal in the furnace next winter.

First they dissolve the tobacco trust, and then admit they didn't dissolve it by proposing a tax on it. Needs a busting perhaps.

Of course you couldn't expect the senate to discover a lobbyist. The senators are too unsophisticated.

Richard L. McCallie, the newspaper man who has been appointed governor of Panama like most newspaper men likes to work in his shirt sleeves. That will make it very easy for him as it is reported to be very warm down there.

Seemingly the earth revolves around the trusts. It has been discovered the trusts are the cause of much of the country's trouble, and yet also it has been discovered that without the trusts the country couldn't get along at all.

Out west recalled officials profess their regret that the people weren't willing to be served by a zealous person. Sort of a regretful recall.

If conventions do a corresponding amount of good for the money spent for them they must be institutions blessed with the seven graces.

After numerous probes and the most thorough painstaking investigation into that unfathomable mystery, the ice man, the conclusion reached is that an ice man is an ice man.

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots, How to Remove Easily

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength from Piper Bros, and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength ointment as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The fact that a young man 27 years old who lives not a thousand miles from Charleroi did not go home one night recently, caused his parents and the family of his fiancée to get up at daylight next morning and start a search for him. The young man's father rang the door bell about 5 o'clock at the home of his son's fiancée and aroused the household. The girl said his son had talked with her over the phone in the evening, and had told her he was going home early. That was the last heard of him.

The girl's brother volunteered to go to the police station and start a search. Both families were very much worried, and felt certain he had a foul play. The young man's fiancée worried herself sick. About 9 o'clock his fiancée found him at his home.

"Where were you last night; give an account of yourself," she said. "It is a pity," said he, "that a young man 27 years old, can't go out and stay all night without having the police after him. I met a friend from Pittsburgh and he wanted me to go down there to a banquet. I just had time to catch the car and couldn't telephone. I intended to come back on the last car, but missed it and had to come home on the first car this morning. Now, is that satisfactory?"

The other evening a small boy begged his mother for permission to go to one of the moving picture shows in town.

"No," replied his mother, there is no one to go with you, and I'm afraid you might get run down by an auto, or hurt on the street car track.

"Say, mamma," asked the lad, "do you believe what they teach at Sunday school?"

"Why yes," replied his mother.

"Well," continued the youngster, "we learned a new song last Sunday. 'The Master Will Take Care of You.' I guess you won't have to go with me. God will take care of me all right."

But even this argument did not gain the desired permission.

Took First Position.

Mr. William Milligan Sloane, "Beth Low" professor of history at Columbia university, in an interview with the London Daily Mail correspondent, said: "I understand that a certain Berlin correspondent of a New York newspaper received a cablegram from his editor which read, 'Don't send much war news; world's baseball series now on!'"

Parisian Solomon.

It is not given to every arbiter to cut the Gordian knot. Two customers in a Paris restaurant disputed, as customers will, whether to have the window open or shut. The apostle of ventilation had dined; the other was a fresh comer, who had brought his stock of fresh air with him. The restaurateur decided for the monsieur who had not yet dined. The decision satisfied the claims of justice and business at a single stroke, and if one client had a grievance it was open to him to ventilate it (and his lungs) outside.

New Hired Girl.

"What's become of the 40-piece dinner set given us by the Twobblers for a wedding present?"

"It probably numbers several thousand pieces now."

GOOD OLD AMERICAN NAMES

"Monarchs" seen in News of Day indicate New York is Our Foremost European Capital.

In the news of one day in New York we find that a man by the name of Isidore Steinberg pleaded guilty to bigamy in the court of a judge named Rosalsky; that a youth named Tumshelsky was drowned; a man named Blau was convicted of keeping disorderly resort; a girl named Anna Clione was a principal witness in a murder case; a Madame Le Compte figured in domestic sensation; a certain Miss Zella brought a breach of promise case; a Governor named Sulzer sent a message to the legislature; Hannes Kolehmainen was the star of a footrace; another runner named Abel Kiviat made a fast trial spin; and a Mr. Max Hochstim figured in a hotel scandal.

The names of Klonz, Remitz, Brosi, Gaw, Levi, Harberg, Golla, Schenkel, Stovell, Meniak, Dalldorf, Jensen, Yohanan, Stappers, Lococo, Hulse, Maelrich, Wirsing, Wexler, Szabo, Tietelbaum, Trifari, Carnap, Loew, Brandus, Mahoney, Braum, Kimmelman, Ubert, Sarlin, Trosky, Mullin and Beubel are the first to assail the eye on turning to a page of advertisements.

In another generation or two these will be good old American names. Meanwhile New York will continue to be our foremost European capital.

SAYS ALL WOMEN ARE LIARS

German Diplomat, Who Got the "Mitten," Declares Fair Sex Deficient Morally.

"All women are liars and are deficient in their sense of moral duty." This and more is the opinion of Baron Herrmann von Kuhlmann of Bavaria, unmarried and attached to German embassy at Peking, who arrived on the Chiyo Maru recently.

According to fellow passengers, the baron formed his views on the voyage when his attentions to Miss Katherine Enright of Chicago did not meet with hearty response.

"A woman cannot recognize the same moral responsibility as a man," said the baron. "No marriage can remain a happy one for more than a year. By that time a man will lose faith in his wife."

Then, turning to Miss Enright, the baron said:

"We have had a pleasant trip. But to have you for a wife if I could—never! You are too energetic."

Returning to the interview, the baron continued:

"Woman is illogical and untrustworthy. She changes her mind too frequently. Woman has no feeling requiring her to tell the truth. In Germany a man and wife are comrades, but in America—never. Here the women are proud and selfish and the men suffer for it."

Advice About Reading.

Be sure, then, to read no, mean books; shun the spawn of the press in the gossip of the hour. Do not read what you shall learn, without asking, in the street and the train. Dr. Johnson said he "always went into stately shops," and good travelers stop at the best hotels; for though they cost more they do not cost much more, and there is the good company and the best information. In like manner the scholar knows that the famous books contain, first and last, the best thoughts and facts. The three practical rules, then, which I have to offer are (1) Never read any book that is not a year old. (2) Never read any but famed books. (3) Never read any but what you like.—Emerson.

Community in News.

At a friend's southern hunting lodge his wife has learned that her "ring-up" on the telephone is accompanied by the click of receivers all along the line. Every one is obviously listening to what she says. On one occasion a telegram was telephoned to the lodge, and the following day, when her husband met a rural neighbor on the road, the latter drew retina to converse.

"Mr. Grey," said he, "I didn't hetch th' fust part o' that telegram we got yest'day."

Mr. Grey accordingly enlightened his ignorance forthwith.—New York World.

Farmer's Suggestion.

A Florida farmer who was raising strawberries for the market sent a shipment to New York and the commission merchant wrote back that the berries were too ripe, consequently poor prices and small return checks, so next time the grower picked them earlier and the results were about the same, as the New York man said they were too green for the market; so the next shipment the man pulled up the plants by the roots, packed them in boxes and said, "You can pick them when just right for your particular market."

Made Dogs and Rats Fight.

For keeping premises in Soar Lane, Leicester, for dog and rat fighting, Walter Manship was at Leicester yesterday fined £5 under the protection of animals act, and for assisting him Ernest Manship and Albert Martin of Leicester, Joseph Ward of Hinchley and James Mason of Birmingham were fined £1 each. It was stated that on Boxing day terrier dogs were placed in a rat pit and a number of rats were killed. All the competing dogs were badly bitten and in one competition two rats were seen hanging from the bleeding jaws of a dog.—London Mail.

PROUD OF HIS SELF-CONTROL

Mrs. Brown Could Agree With Mar Liege Lord, Too, That It Was Something Uncommon.

Mr. Brown was excitable by nature, but he often prided himself audibly upon his self-control. One night while the family were gathered at the tea table the chimney began to roar; the furnace draft had been opened and forgotten. Straightway a panic ensued. "Don't lose your heads—keep cool!" cried Mr. Brown. "It's nothing serious."

He dashed up the stairs, discovered that the metal cap over the only unused stovepipe hole was already red hot, and dashed down again faster than he went up.

"Keep cool!" he gasped, as he passed through the room where the family had gathered in nervous apprehension. "I'll be back in a minute."

He was back in less than that time, having observed that the flames were spouting several feet high from the chimney, and that a shower of sparks was falling upon the roof.

"Where's the extinguisher?" he panted.

He was gone before anyone could answer the question, and presently was heard bellowing from the roof of the woodshed. He presented an heroic figure in the glare of the blazing chimney.

"I've got one end of the hose!" he called. "Some one attach the other end and turn on the water—quick!"

Two long minutes passed. "Why doesn't some one do as I ordered?" he thundered. "Do you want the place to burn up?"

"We can't, Henry!" called Mrs. Brown, tremblingly. "You haven't got the hose—you've got the cow-ropes. It was hanging next to the hose in the shed. And anyway, the roof is covered with ice, and I don't think there's any great danger outside. You'd better go and watch the chimney from the inside."

A half-hour later the family were again at the tea table.

"If this had happened in some homes," remarked Mr. Brown, "the family would have lost their heads completely and sent in an alarm. Self-control is an excellent thing—and far from common."

"Indeed it is!" agreed Mrs. Brown, emphatically.—Youth's Companion.

BASEBALL FOR THE FARMER

Possibly the Game Might Be of Benefit to Him, But It Is Hardly Indispensable.

Baseball never has been regarded exclusively as a city product. While it is true that the cities supply the enormous crowds that support the big leagues, it is equally true that many of the players in those leagues are graduates of the "bush" leagues. The country boy has an equal chance with the city boy to win the high honors and generous emoluments of a successful ball player. The farmer himself has not come directly in touch with the national game, perhaps, except on a rare holiday. A professor in the Kansas State Agricultural college calls this a mistake. Familiarity with the game, he believes, would promote success in agriculture. If the farmer would play ball "it would take the shamble out of his walk" and "make him decide quickly." This is an interesting theory, but it will not be universally accepted. Some will contend that the motor car has already taken the "shamble" out of the farmer's walk. Others will insist that handling a high spirited horse or pitching a load of hay on a wagon while a thunderstorm is gathering is just as valuable in training his mental faculties to quick action.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Rose Culture in Bulgaria.

White and red roses are grown, the former being easier to cultivate, but giving only about half as much oil of an inferior quality. The individual growers distill their own oil. Twelve to fifteen kilos of roses are distilled with 60 kilos of water until 12 kilos of distillate are obtained; eight to ten such lots are then united, and redistilled into long necked flasks, in which the oil separates on standing. To produce one kilo of oil requires 1,000 kilos of roses of 1,200,000 flowers. The roses are gathered in the early morning and distilled the same day. The pure oil from the various districts shows variations in color and physical properties, and is therefore skillfully blended by the distilling houses before sale. Adulteration is very largely carried on by the peasants, who use ginger grass oil, palma rosa oil, geranium oil, etc. The production for 1910 was 3,144 kilos.—The Pharmaceutical Era.

We Are Creatures of Habit.

There was no rush at the moment and the ticket chopper had time to talk to the man waiting for a friend in a subway station. "Yes, we see lots of queer people here," he said, "and we have nearly the same people every day and at the same hour. I know men who do not vary a minute in a week in their routine. The queerest man we have at this station we call 'the whistler.' Every morning at 7:30 he drops his ticket in the box and he always whistles. That wouldn't be so funny, but for years it has always been the same tune. We all know the tune, but no one knows the song. His ticket goes in the box at the same note every morning, and then he walks to the third post, opens his paper and whistles off the train column."—New York Tribune.

These new Remington models supply visible writing under new conditions—without loss of efficiency.

To realize what this means—the combination of Remington strength with visible writing—note the type bars. Note them specially. See how they are hung in a double row. This gives room for the broad pivot bearings. Note the bar itself, the strong, rigid bar, the Remington bar you have always known, made from a steel drop forging. Compare this bar with the ordinary thin bar, stamped out of sheet steel, and you will understand one reason why the very name "Remington" stands for Strength and Reliability in a Typewriter.

Prolific Penguins. A penguin oil industry is to be established at Macquarie Island, about half way between Tasmania and the Antarctic continent. This island, 25 miles long and five wide, is estimated to contain probably $2,000,000 penguins, so that the stock seems almost limitless.

The Value of Trying.

If a man constantly aspires, is he not elevated? Did ever a man try heroism, magnanimity, truth, sincerity, and find that there was no advantage in them? That it was a vain endeavor?—Thoreau.

Impossible.

"A person should think twice before speaking." "Perhaps so, but if some people were to think twice before speaking they would be so exhausted they couldn't speak."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Parental Problems.

Where a whipping may improve one boy it will create a grudge and a thirst for revenge in another. Parents have several problems besides making a living.—Atchison Globe.

Uncle Pennywise.

Uncle Pennywise says: "I don't suppose a rich woman feels any particular gratification when she gets a new pair of shoes."—Kansas City Journal.

TOMORROW LAST

DAY OF STAY FOR

ALONZO SOUSLIN

After a several days stay in Charleroi Alonzo Souslin who is considered one of the most remarkable men in the country from the fact that he lives and enjoys good health in spite of a broken neck, will leave after Saturday night. Mr. Souslin has been here doing what work he can, which consists principally in the selling of postcard photographs. It would be absolutely impossible for Mr. Souslin to do any hard work. Being a man who spent his earlier years at hard work, this fact rather grates on him, but obviously a man with a disconnected neck has no business drilling wells, railroading or doing any other kind of labor that the ordinary person would do.

Mr. Souslin's home is in Dayton, Ohio, and following a visit to Donora and Washington he will return here to visit his family.

Ladies' Suits Smartly tailored garments that some stores would consider great values at $20.00. We are having them on sale at $9.25. Come have one charged. Your credit's good, that's understood. The Peoples Store, 536 Fallowfield Ave., Charleroi, Pa. 269-11

To Freshen Air.

To freshen the air of a sickroom, ground coffee should be sprinkled on a shovel or coal-scoop previously heated in the fire. A match should then be held to a small piece of camphor-gum, and when this is alight it should be placed in the center of the shovel. The burning coffee gives an aromatic aroma to the room, which is very refreshing.

Ancient Use of Cork.

Cork was known to the Greeks and Romans, and was put to almost as many uses as at present, although there is no mention in Rome of Herculaneum, notwithstanding its Roman sound. Glass bottles, with cork stoppers, for wine and beer, did not come into use until the middle of the fourteenth century.

The Real Problem.

"Well, dear," said the young husband to his bride, "I'll make out the deposit slip in your name, and all you have to do is to take it to the bank." "Yes," she responded, "but suppose I want to draw out some money some day, how will they know which is my money?"—Harper's Bazar.

Of Doubtful Status.

"Have you much of a friendship with Wombat? I see you going home with him occasionally." "The status of our friendship is a puzzle to me. He never takes me to his house except when he has been drinking."—Louisville Courier Journal.
